People Building Peace.

An e-mail from a Ghanaian refugee camp, a conversation with Pittsburgh community leaders, or an appeal by a Rwandan Senator...

The diverse spectrum of conflicts we encounter has led us to: establish mediation centers, help reconcile conflicting ethnic communities, make alternative dispute resolution (ADR) more effective, and strengthen professional networks.

About MBBI Projects

- ▶ Multidisciplinary pro bono teams,
- ▶ Collaborate with local partners,
- ▶ To enhance peacebuilding capacity within civil society, and
- ▶ Develop sustainable conflict management mechanisms.

MBBI has undertaken activities in Colombia, Ecuador, Israel, Greece, Kenya, Rwanda, South Sudan, Uganda, Sierra Leone, Liberia, Ghana, Zimbabwe, Cambodia, Nepal and the U.S. In addition, MBBI advocates for the inclusion of mediation processes as part of the UN Climate Change discussions.

PEACE IS A PROCESS.
Let us be your partner.

MBBI PROJECTS

▶ CLIMATE CHANGE POLICY

Since 2009, MBBI has been an Official Observer Organization of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) talks and the Conference of the Parties (COP). MBBI's Climate Change team advocates for the inclusion of mediation processes as part of climate change policy.

▶ COLOMBIA

The Colombia team identifies initiatives aligned with MBBI's current objectives to develop the peacebuilding skills and practices of women, strengthen local trauma-informed peacebuilding practices, and work in partnership with local Rotary clubs in their service efforts to promote peace.

▶ DIALOG PROCESS PROJECT Cambodia, Czech Republic, Greece

The Dialog Process Project (DPP) responds to requests to train local mediators and facilitators to enable them to resolve community disputes, design and facilitate public dialogue, and function within their country as a resource for underserved communities in resolving disputes.

▶ KENYA

The Kenya Initiative developed the "Warriors to Peace Guardian Framework" to generate systemic, positive peace throughout four pastoralist (nomadic herder) counties of Kenya.

▶ NEPAL

The Nepal Team focuses on supporting and strengthening a rural community in Palpa and works with the local people to create ownership of their right for peace in Nepal.

▶ SIERRA LEONE

MBBI's Sierra Leone team provides leadership training to community leaders. Responding to travel restrictions imposed following the Ebola crisis in 2014, the MBBI team conducted the training on-line. These local leaders continue to play a crucial role in mitigating epidemic-related conflicts.

▶ SOUTH SUDAN

Since 2014, the MBBI South Sudan team has taken a trauma-informed approach to peacebuilding and seeks to address trauma in order to support reconciliation and to increase resilience against incitement to fight.

▶ UGANDA

The MBBI Uganda team works with the National Foundation for Democracy and Human Rights in Uganda (NAFODU) and other partners to support the capacity of communities and civil society organizations in southwestern Uganda to resolve land-related conflicts within families and communities.
